

THE UPSIDE-DOWNS OF LITTLE LADY LOVEKINS AND OLD MAN MUFFAROO

• THE FAIRY PALACE •

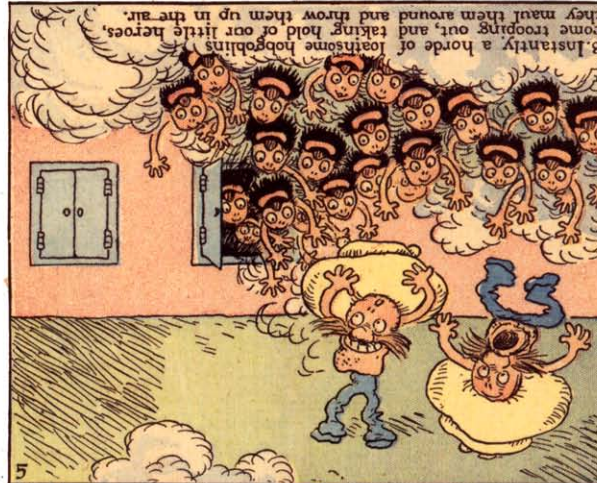

1 One day Lovekins and Muffaroo come to a beautiful lake, just like a mirror, and on its shores they see a lovely palace, toward which they make their way.

2 Then he vanishes, and pretty soon they find the two mysterious closets. Muffaroo remembers the Genie's words.

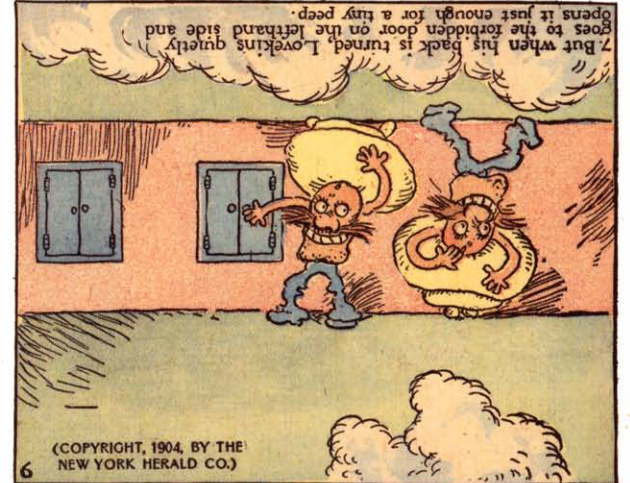

3 "Let us go in!" cries little Lady Lovekins, and as the big door stands wide open, in they go!

4 So he opens only the righthand door, and behold! out come a lot of funny little fairies, singing sweet songs to them. "How do you do, fairies!" Muffaroo calls out

5 Inside, a great Genie floats up to them in a cloud of smoke. "You will find two mysterious closets," says he. "The one on the right, you may open, but the lefthand one, open not! oh, open not!"

6 The fairies go back, and Muffaroo closes the door again. "I wonder what is in the other closet," says Lovekins. "Ah, that we shall never know!" replies Old Man Muffaroo.

(COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY THE NEW YORK HERALD CO.)